Prince. Faith, tell me now in earneſt, how came Falſtaffes Sword ſo hackt?

Peto. Why, he hackt it with his Dagger, and ſaid he would ſweare truth out of England but hee would make you beleeue it was done in fight, and perſwaded vs to doe the like.

Car. Yea, and to tickle our noſes with ſpeare-graſſe, to make them bleede, and then to beſlubber our garments with it, and ſweare it was the blood of true men. I did that I did not this ſeauen yeare before, I bluſht to heare his monſtrous deuiſes.

Prin. O villaine, thou ſtolеſt a cup of Sacke eighteene yeeres ago, and wert taken with the manner, and euer ſince thou haſt bluſht extempore, thou hadſt fire and ſword on thy ſide, and yet thou ranſt away: what inſtinct haaſt thou for it?

Bar. My Lord, doe you ſee theſe meteors? doe you behold theſe exhalations?

Prin. I doe.

Bar. What thinke you they portend?

Prin Hot Liuers, and cold Purces.

Bar. Choler, my Lord, if rightly taken.

Enter Falſtaffe.

Prin. No, if rightly taken, Halter. Here comes leane Iacke, here comes bare-bone. How now my ſweete creature of Bombaſt, how long is't ago, Iacke, ſince thou ſaweſt thine owne Knee?

Fal. My owne Knee? when I was about thy yeares (Hal) I was not an Eagles talent in the waſt: I could haue crept into any Aldermas thumbe-ring: a plague of ſighing and griefe, it blowes a man vp like a bladder. There's villanous newes abroad, here was ſir Iohn braby from your Father: you muſt goe to the Court in the morning. The ſame mad fellow of the North Percy, and he of Wales, that gaue Amaſon the Baſtinado, and made Lucifer cuckold, and ſwore the Diuell his true liegeman vpon the Croſſe of a welch hocke; what a plague call you him?

Poin. O Glendower.

Fal. Owen, Owen, the ſame, and his Sonne in law Mortimer, and old Northumberland, and the ſprighly Scot of Scottes Dowglaſſe, that runnes a horſe-backe vp a hill perpendicular.

Prin. Hee that rides at high ſpeed, and with a Piſtoll kills a Sparrow flying.

Fal.

Fal. You haue hit it.

Prinee. So did he neuer the Sparrow.

Fal. Well, that raſcall hath good mettall in him runne.

Prince. Why what a raſcall art thou then, to prai running?

Fal. A horſe-backe (yee Cuckoe) but on foote budge a foote.

Prin. Yes Iacke, vpon inſtinct.

Fal. I grant ye, vpon inſtinct: well, hee is there Mordake, and a thouſand blew Caps more Worce away by night, thy fathers beard is turn'd white wit you may buy Land now as cheape as ſtinking Ma

Prin. Then t'is like, if there come a hot Sunne, a buffeting hold, wee ſhall buy Mayden-heads as th nailes, by the hundreds.

Fal. By the Maſſe lad, thou ſaiſt true, it is like w good trading that way. But tell me Hal, Art not tho feard? thou being Heire apparent, could the wor out three ſuch Enemies againe, as that fiend Dowg Percy, and that diuell Glendower? Art thou not hor doth not thy blood thrill at it?

Prin. Not a whit yfaith: I lacke ſome of thy inſti

Falſ. Well, thou wilt be horrible chidde to n thou commeſt to thy Father: if thou doe loue me anſwere.

Prince. Do thou ſtand for my Father, and exan the particulars of my life.

Fal. Shall I? content: this Chaire ſhalbe my St ger my Scepter, and this Cuſhin my Crowne.

Prin. Thy State is taken for a ioynd ſtoole, thy ter for a leaden Dagger, and thy precious rich Cro tifull bald Crowne.

Falſ. Well, and the fire of Grace be not quite now ſhalt thou be moued. Giue mee a cuppe of S mine eyes looke redde, that it may be thought For I muſt ſpeake in paſſion, and I will doe it in vaine.
